

THE WOOD VINTAGE

Instagram & Facebook Setup Guide

Everything ready to copy and paste

How to set up your accounts the right way, what to write in your bio, what to post for your first two weeks, and simple habits that help the algorithm show your posts to more people.

SECTION 1

Before You Start

Have these ready before you create the accounts — it takes ten minutes and saves you from redoing the setup later.

- ☐ A square logo image (your "TW" monogram, on a plain cream background) — this becomes your profile photo.
- ☐ A real WhatsApp Business number that someone actually checks every day.
- ☐ A business email address (for example, hello@thewoodvintage.com).
- ☐ 5–10 real photos or videos from the workshop — carpenters at work, tools, finished pieces. Real footage only; avoid stock photos, they make a handmade brand look less genuine.
- ☐ A few lines about your story: who makes the furniture, where, and what makes it different. (We've written this for you below — just confirm it's accurate.)

SECTION 2

Setting Up Instagram

Step 1 — Create a Business account

When you sign up (or in Settings → Account type, if you already have one), choose "Switch to Professional Account" → "Business" — not Personal and not Creator. A Business account unlocks the things you'll need: a Contact button, insights on who's viewing your posts, and the ability to run ads later.

Step 2 — Choose your category

Category: "Furniture Store" (if "Home Decor" shows as an option too, you can add it as a second category). This is what shows under your name and helps the right people find you when they search.

Step 3 — Fill in your profile

Field	What to put
Name (searchable)	The Wood Vintage Carved Wood Furniture — people search by this text, not by your @username, so it's worth including a keyword like "furniture" here.
Username	@thewoodvintage — use this exact same name on Facebook too, so people can find you easily on both.
Profile photo	Your logo, centred, on the cream background.
Location	Jodhpur, Rajasthan, India
Contact buttons	WhatsApp (your real number) and Email.

Step 4 — Your bio

Copy this in exactly as written (character limit is 150, this fits):

Hand-carved wood furniture & decor
Made by our own carpenters, Jodhpur 🪵

Custom sizes | Diwali pieces on the way

👉 Free quote on WhatsApp

Note: after Diwali passes (around mid-November), change the third line to something evergreen like "Custom sizes | Delivery across India" — the rest of the bio can stay as is.

Step 5 — Set up your "link in bio"

Instagram lets you add a few clickable links under your bio. Set these up in this order:

1. "Get a free quote" → your website
2. "Chat on WhatsApp" → a direct WhatsApp link to your business number

Step 6 — Highlights

Create these empty Highlight covers now (using your brand colours), and fill them in as you post content over the next two weeks: Meet the Makers • How It Works • Wood & Care • Diwali • FAQ

SECTION 3

Setting Up Facebook

Step 1 — Create a Facebook Page

Not a personal profile — a Page, specifically for the business. Go to facebook.com/pages/create. Connect it to your Instagram Business account afterwards (in Meta Business Suite) so you can manage both from one place and run ads across both later.

Step 2 — Choose your category

Category: "Furniture Store" — add "Home Decor" and "Manufacturer" as secondary categories if the Page gives you the option.

Step 3 — Short description (shows on your Page, 255 characters)

Hand-carved wood furniture, mandirs and decor made by our own carpenter team in Jodhpur, India. Made to your size and finish. Free design quote on WhatsApp. Diwali 2026 pieces now open for orders.

Step 4 — About (the longer story on your Page)

The Wood Vintage is a family of carpenters in Jodhpur, Rajasthan, making hand-carved wood furniture, mirrors and decor.

We build every piece in our own workshop, and we build it to your size and finish. Tell us about your space, send a photo or a rough sketch, and we'll send you a design and a written quote.

How it works:

- 1) Tell us what you need
- 2) We send a design and a quote
- 3) You approve and pay a deposit
- 4) We build it and send you progress photos
- 5) We deliver it to your door

What to Post: Your First Two Weeks

Post the very first one today or tomorrow — Navratri begins on 11 October, and you want a few posts already up so your page doesn't look brand new when people arrive for the festival.

Day	Type	What to post
Tue 6 Oct	Short video	"Welcome to our workshop" — footage of the real workshop: hands sanding wood, a carpenter carving, the finished piece. Pin this to the top of your page.
Wed 7 Oct	Photo set	"Meet our carpenters" — a portrait of your lead carpenter, his tools, what he makes best.
Thu 8 Oct	Photo set	"Sheesham vs. mango wood" — a simple explainer so customers learn to trust that you're honest about materials.
Fri 9 Oct	Short video	"Getting ready for Diwali — behind the scenes." Be honest that these pieces are still being made — never say "in stock" if it isn't.
Sat 10 Oct	Story only	No feed post — just a casual Saturday-at-the-workshop story.
Sun 11 Oct	Photo	Navratri Day 1 greeting. Turn on your early-bird discount code today (details in the Diwali Plan document). This is a festive greeting, not a hard sell.
Mon 12 Oct	Short video	"How custom orders work" — walk through your 5-step process. Pin this too.
Tue 13 Oct	Photo set	"Diwali pieces, coming soon" — feature your real best-sellers (the carved mirror, the carved wall panel, the inlay tray, the elephant pair).

One rule above all others: never show or describe a product as "ready" or "in stock" unless it genuinely is. It's tempting to post something before it exists, but a disappointed customer does far more damage than a slightly quieter launch week.

The five weeks at a glance

Window	What's happening	How often to post
--------	------------------	-------------------

6 - 10 Oct	Introduce the brand, build trust	Every day
11 - 19 Oct Navratri	Soft launch, early-bird discount, no hard selling	Every day or two
20 - 29 Oct Dussehra onward	Real sales push begins, gift combos and offers go live	Every day or two
30 Oct - 8 Nov Final stretch to Diwali	Show off your best pieces one by one, share the real order cutoff date, remind people about Dhanteras (6 Nov)	Every single day
8 - 9 Nov Diwali & Bhai Dooj	Wishes and a thank-you to everyone who supported the launch — no more selling push	1-2 posts

SECTION 5

Hashtags to Use

Use about 3–5 per post, mixing one or two from each group below. Don't use the same five every time — Instagram treats repeated, identical hashtag sets as slightly spammy.

#artisanmade · #madeinindia ·
#woodworking

About the furniture

#woodfurniture · #customfurniture ·
#homedecor · #solidwood · #interiordesign

About the festival

#navratri · #dhanteras

About the place

#jodhpur · #rajasthan · #meetthemaker ·

SECTION 6

Simple Habits That Help the Algorithm

Instagram and Facebook don't show your posts to everyone who follows you right away — they test each post on a small group first, and only show it more widely if people respond well. These habits genuinely help:

Habit	Why it helps
Reply to every comment and message within the first hour	Fast replies in the first hour after posting are one of the strongest signals that a post deserves to be shown to more people.
Post short videos (Reels), not just photos	Instagram and Facebook currently favour short video over plain photos — it's what they're actively trying to grow.
Post consistently, even if it's not every day	A steady rhythm — say, 4 times a week, every week — works better than 10 posts one week and none the next.
Make content worth saving or sharing	Care tips, "how it's made," buying guides — things people bookmark or send to a friend — tend to spread further than a plain product photo.
Use Stories every day, even on days you don't post	Stories keep you visible in people's daily feed and cost almost no effort — a quick photo and a sticker (poll, question) is enough.
Post when your audience is actually online	For a home-decor audience in India, evenings (around 7–10pm) and weekends tend to work best. Check your Insights after two weeks and adjust.
Reply to comments	A genuine reply signals more engagement than a thumbs-up, and it also builds trust with that customer.

with a few
real words, not just an emoji

Never buy followers or use engagement
"pods"

These are detected and actively work against you — your posts get shown to fewer real people, not more.

Don't delete and repost
the same content

This resets everything and looks suspicious to the algorithm — if a post underperforms, just move on to the next one.

SECTION 7
